Grandma June and the Map of Little Things

An old map. A blue biscuit tin. A dog with a weakness for left socks. When Maya and Noah discover a hand-drawn map in Grandma June’s kitchen, an ordinary afternoon becomes a trail of clues through Lantern Cove. Between cinnamon buns, a crooked bridge lamp and a red bench by the harbor, everyone has something to notice—and Biscuit has a sock to steal. A warm family adventure about making memories, sharing discoveries and keeping a little room on the map for next time.

A fictional ScribistIQ demonstration, created with AI and revised in Studio.

